Press, Radio and TV . . .

Each year we make an effort to add new things to these TIPS ON THE TIGERS for more interesting reading. For 1968 we have added some attendance figures which should be a conversation piece. Our research carried us back to 1938 for this.

Also, in the past several editions, a listing of the lettermen since 1927 has been published. In this issue, lettermen from Clemson's first year of football—1896—are listed.

We have attempted to give as much data as possible on the 1968 Tigers, but we know it is impossible to include everything, but feel free to call on us when something you desire is not in the book.

We appreciate getting requests as early as you know your assignments for the season. We will honor requests from working press, radio and photographer passes from sports editors of DAILY newspapers and radio and TV sports directors ONLY. These requests should be made directly to the Sports Information Director, preferably a week in advance of the game concerned.

The press box is operated for the convenience of the working press. No women, other than accredited women sportswriters and Western Union operators, will be admitted to the press box at any time. No one under 16 years of age will be admitted.

Please do not ask for more working passes than you need. You can make conditions more desirable for yourself and your fellow writers by not asking for press box tickets for your "traveling buddy" or "driver."

THE COVER

Phil Neel, cartoonist of the Birmingham Post-Herald, has captured Clemson's football situation as it appeared on paper at the beginning of fall practice. The Tigers should be as strong on defense, and not as strong as last season on offense. The "big brother" defense hopes to show his "little brother" offense a few tricks of the trade.

Shutouts By and Whom . . .

In 28 seasons at Clemson, Coach Frank Howard's teams have shut out opponents 49 times (20 different teams). During the same period, Howard has seen his teams blanked on 28 occasions (15 different teams). Below is a breakdown of shutouts, both for and against.

CLEMSON SHUTOUTS (49): Presbyterian 10; N. C. State 7; Wake Forest 5, South Carolina 4; Virginia and North Carolina 3 each; The Citadel, Auburn and Furman, twice each; Wofford, George Washington, Virginia Military, Virginia Tech, Duquesne, Missouri, Boston College, Maryland, Rice, Duke and Texas Christian, once each.

OPPONENTS' SHUTOUTS (28); Maryland 5; Georgia Tech 4; South Carolina 3; Miami (Fla.), Auburn, North Carolina and N. C. State, twice each; Tulane, Virginia Military, George Washington, Georgia, Louisiana State, Duke, Alabama and Southern Cal, once each.

Outlook for 1968 . . .

Clemson has a proven defense coming back for the 1968 season, but the offense doesn't have much playing time together, although one of four starters returning is tailback Buddy Gore, who was named player-of-the-year in the Atlantic Coast Conference last fall.

Gore set a league rushing record with 1,045 yards to his credit, good enough to rank eight in the nation and his 230 rushing attempts was third high nationally.

The eight defensive starters returning are all seniors and have played together for the past two seasons and should know every move each other makes.

Ronnie Ducworth is back at right end while Billy Ware and Jimmy Catoe are up for their third season as linebackers. The same can be said for John Cagle and Mike Locklair at tackles while James Tompkins has been the top middle guard since the fifth game in '67.

Catoe and Ducworth both made the All-ACC team a year ago. Joining this veteran forward wall is Ivan Southerland, who lettered last season behind three-year veteran Joey Branton.

Richie Luzzi, who played every minute of defense last fall, is set at left safety and Lee Rayburn is up again at right corner. John Fulmer, who spelled Rayburn a year ago, has moved to left corner replacing All-ACCer Frank Liberatore. The right safety slot is expected to be filled by either Mike Funderburk or Gary Compton, both red shirt sophomores.

Besides Gore, Gary Arthur at one guard and Wayne Mulligan at center appear set in their positions. But the other offensive starter returning, fullback Rick Medlin, will have to fight to reclaim his spot. Benny Michael beat him out during the spring and a sophomore, Ray Yauger, looked impressive at times.

Quarterback is another vital unsettled spot. Jimmy Addison carried the Tigers for two seasons and may be missed more than any Clemson player in the past 10 years. Charlie Waters, Billy Ammons and Tom English will all be given a try.

The flanker will come from either Jack Anderson, Ron Miller or Josh Collins. The Tigers lost two flankers and three offensive ends who together caught 85 of Clemson's 105 completed passes last year.

To plug such holes left by the departure of Harry Olszewski, Wayne Mass, Jimmy Abrams, Larry Keys and Edgar McGee, coach Frank Howard has advanced letterman Joe Lhotsky, Richard Garick and Connie Wade and moved Randy Harvey from middle guard to Olszewski's right guard slot.

Jim Sursavage, who played fullback for the freshmen last year, has been switched to left end, making it likely that two sophomores, Anderson being the other, will be on the starting offensive team.

Clemson IPTAY CLUB . . .

Another successful year was enjoyed by the Clemson IPTAY Club during 1967-68, and even greater heights are anticipated for the year beginning September 1, 1968. This will start the 35th year of operation in what many believe is the most successful of any collegiate booster clubs in the United States.

Letters are received each year from other schools inquiring about the operation of IPTAY, but so far, no one has been as successful as Clemson in keeping keen interest through the years, be they thick or thin.

During the 34th year of operation the club had its largest membership on record. There were nearly 9,300 regular members and over 1,000 Gold Card ($100 or more) contributors. These together represented over 19,000 memberships and money received was more than had been realized in any previous year.

IPTAY was started for just one purpose — to finance athletic scholarships at Clemson. That is still the way IPTAY is run today. The money received during the past 34 years has been used for scholarships and scholarships only. No other use is made of the money.

From the records available, there were 185 people who were members of IPTAY during that first year of 1934-35. Over a third of these are now deceased, but better than 60 per cent of those still living are members today and a fifth of them are Gold Card members.

The late Dr. Rupert H. (Rube) Fike was the father of IPTAY. It was his idea that something should be done to support athletics at Clemson. His thought were being churned around when the Tigers were at one of their lowest depths of football. The team had won but seven games, while losing 17 and deadlocking five in three seasons.

The formation of IPTAY seemed to be an immediate stimulate to football. For the eight years following its organization, the football team had a break even or better season. And the sixth season after IPTAY was born, the Tigers were going to their first bowl.

Since IPTAY was formed the Tigers have had 26 out of 34 seasons of .500 or better ball and have been to six more bowl games.

While IPTAY had football strictly in mind when it was formed in Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 20, 1934, Clemson's other athletic teams have also benefitted from the program. Individual and team championships have been numerous in the last three and a half decades.

Anyone, regardless of alma mater or age who is interested in seeing the Tigers retain a high ranking in their athletic endeavors, can become a member of IPTAY.

IPTAY means an investment in the future because those who are being educated now through IPTAY today are the leaders of tomorrow.

The Century Club . . .

Coach Frank Howard of Clemson has now taken over as dean of American football coaches, having had more years as a head coach at a major football institution (as classified by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau) as well as having the longest tenure in the nation.

Howard is one of 12 active coaches who has won over 100 games and is one of four to have won 150 or more games. Others in this category are Bear Bryant at Alabama, Johnny Vaught at Mississippi and Clarence Stasavich at East Carolina.

Darrell Royal of Texas joined the "Century Club" last year and now has 105 wins while Warren Woodson at New Mexico State and Buff Donelli of Columbia retired from coaching.

Dan Devine of Missouri enters the 1968 season with 97 wins while Ben Schwaetzwalder of Syracuse is one shy of his 150th victory.

A Note On Clemson . . .

Clemson University continues to grow by leaps and bounds, both with an ever-increasing student body enrollment and in its physical plant. Millions of dollars are now being spent on the campus in construction of vitally needed buildings and others are on the planning board expected to be started in the immediate future.

A student body of 7,000, is anticipated for the 1968-69 school year, and by the time 1975 rolls around, this figure is expected to jump to 10,000.

Being completed now are a cafeteria with a capacity of 2,000, another 10-story high rise dormitory, a student health center, a new classroom building with a 10-story office tower, an engineering research building and another showplace on the campus, the J. C. Littlejohn Coliseum, which will seat just under 11,000 for Clemson's basketball games and so constructed that many other activities can also be accommodated in it.

Clemson is located in the northwest corner of South Carolina, 30 miles from the foothills of the beautiful Blue Ridge Mountains. Highways 123, 76 and 28 cross through the campus with Interstate 85 just 12 miles away.

The campus proper contains over 25,000 acres, with other university facilities operated throughout the state in cooperation with the Extension Service and Experiment Station. The main campus of this land grant university is located on the shores of Hartwell Lake, a 60,000-acre expanse with over 960 miles of shore line.

The university is composed of seven schools or colleges: College of Agriculture and Biological Sciences, College of Arts and Sciences, School of Architecture, College of Engineering, School of Industrial Management and Textile Science, School of Education, and the latest addition, the School of Nursing.

There are 41 curriculums at the university for undergraduates, some with a five-year curricula. Graduate work toward a master of science or master of arts is now offered in 42 fields and there are now 23 programs leading to a doctor of philosophy degree.

Thomas Green Clemson, who was the nation's first superintendent (now secretary) of agriculture and a son-in-law of the noted Southern statesman, John C. Calhoun, gave his Fort Hill Estate to the State of South Carolina for the establishment of an agricultural and mechanical college.

Clemson received its first students (446) in 1893 and the first graduating class was in 1896.

Dr. Robert Cook Edwards was named president in 1959 following the sudden death of Dr. R. F. Poole. Edwards, who had been with industry since his 1933 graduation, returned to Clemson as head of the department of development before being elevated to the presidency.

A Brief Flash Back . . .

During the 1967 season, Clemson scored its 10,000th point in collegiate football and Frank Howard became the dean of American football coaches.

The Tigers launch their 73rd gridiron campaign with 10,118 points on the scoreboard, scored in 631 intercollegiate games — or an average of just over 16 points a contest.

Clemson has won 342 games (54.2%) and the veteran Howard, who is starting his 29th season as Tiger head coach, has been at the helm in 43.6% (or 275) of the 631 played.

Howard can now lay claim as having been head coach longer than any other active coach in the nation. This past year, Warren B. Woodson retired at New Mexico State after head coaching 37 years. This vaulted Howard into the top slot, and he has a five-year lead on his nearest competitor, Bear Bryant of Alabama.

The long-time Clemson coach is also one of four active coaches to have won 150 or more games in his long career. His 28-year record is 157-107-11.

Clemson has been to seven post-season bowl games, more than any other team in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tigers have a 4-3 bowl record and in each one of these classics, they were the underdog.

Clemson — like most schools — has had its ups and downs in football. The Tigers started their intercollegiate gridiron activity in 1896, winning two of the three games played that year.

In the first four seasons Clemson compiled an 11-6 record, but it wasn't until John Heisman appeared in 1900 that Clemson became known as a football power.

In four years Heisman's teams won 19, lost 3 and tied 2, scoring 731 points and holding opponents to 92. Heisman went on to greater heights at Georgia Tech and it is for him the cherished Heisman Trophy is named.

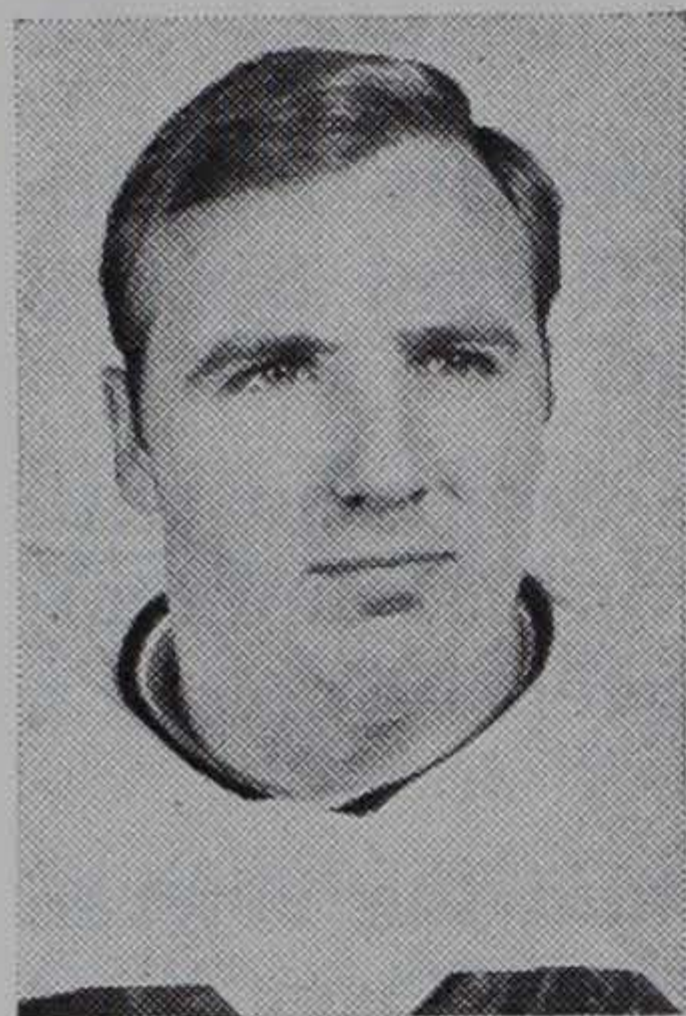

After Heisman's departure Clemson had four coaches in four years and compiled a 14-9-5 record, but on April 1, 1908 the Pendleton Escapade took place which resulted in the expulsion of 306 students, including many football players.

The Tigers had only eight winning seasons during the next 19 and not until Josh Cody took over in 1927 could Clemson put together four winners in a row.

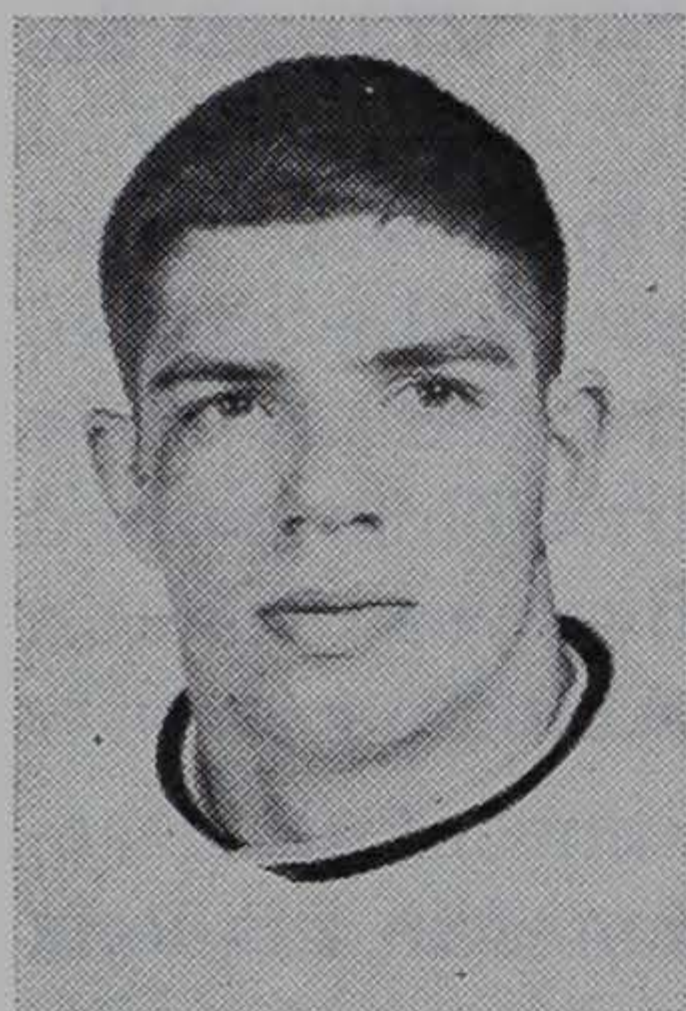

Cody left after the 1930 season and Jess Neely came in as head coach bringing Howard with him to be his line coach. After experiencing three straight losing seasons, Neely became a winner in 1934 and before he left to go to Rice, had produced Clemson's first bowl team.

Howard took over in 1940 and has continued to keep Clemson on the national football map. He's taken teams to six post-season bowl games and has finished .500 or better in 20 of his 28 seasons.

The 26-21 victory over North Carolina in 1958 was Coach Frank Howard's 100th coaching victory.

FRANK JAMES HOWARD

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR AND HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Frank Howard is now the dean of American football coaches. Not only has he been head coach at one institution longer than anyone else, but he has now been a head coach longer than anyone else.

This came about during the winter when Warren B. Woodson retired at New Mexico State after being a head coach 37 years, the last 10 years at New Mexico.

Howard

Howard begins the 1968 season with his 29th Clemson team and it'll be his 39th on the Clemson staff. He rolled into a tiny A&M college in the summer of 1931 on the coat tail of Coach Jess Neely. After Neely had carried Clemson to its first bowl game following the 1939 season, he accepted a more lucrative offer from Rice University and stayed there 27 years.

Howard was offered the opportunity to be Clemson's head coach a few weeks after Neely left and when Howard's name was placed in nomination, he seconded the move and has been on the job ever since.

Howard's connection with intercollegiate football travels back 41 years, including his four as an under-graduate at Alabama. In his four decades-plus as a player-coach, he has been connected with 395 gridiron wars, including two in the East-West Shrine game, four at the Blue-Gray and one in Miami's North-South game. And he's already accepted to be a coach in the 1970 Hula Bowl.

In all of his past football games Howard has been on the winning side 228 times and losing 167.

Howard celebrated his 59th birthday this past March 25th, but he says, "Some people think I'm an old man. They say if you're under 40 you're too young and if you're over 40 you're too old, so that don't leave but one year for a coach."

The other seven Atlantic Coast Conference coaches have been at their respective schools a total of 28 years — the same number Howard has been at Clemson. Altogether since Howard took over the Tigers in 1940, there have been a total of 47 coaches at the other seven conference schools. If coaches were counted in the Southern Conference from 1940 through 1952, just before the ACC was formed, the number would be much greater.

Clemson Radio Network . . .

Phillips

Buchanan

The 1968 season finds the Clemson Football Network in its 15th year and again, it will be one of the largest university-operated networks in the nation.

During 1967 the network averaged over 53 stations a game, which was an all-time high.

The network will have a new team this fall handling the play-by-play and color.

Jim Phillips, who succeeded Bill Goodrich in the capacity of sports director of WFBC Radio and TV in Greenville, will handle the play-by-play for the first time. The color man will be Bruce Buchanan, also of the WFBC staff. Buchanan replaces Jim Kingman.

The Clemson network is operated wholly by the athletic department and has been one of the most successful anywhere. The network has averaged slightly over 50 stations a game for the past seven seasons.

Phillips came to WFBC from his native Ohio with 15 years of broadcasting experience behind him. His first eight years were spent in all phases of radio and television announcing and production. The last seven have been in program and sports directing.

Phillips' affiliations have been with WATG, Ashland, WFAH, Alliance and WIMA, Lima, all in Ohio. He came to WFBC from WFAH where he had been program and sports director since 1961.

He has had seven years of radio play-by-play, doing both high school and college games in football and basketball. His last collegiate assignment before coming to WFBC was play-by-play reporter for the Kent State University Sports Network.

Buchanan, who is general manager of WFBC Radio, is well known in sports broadcasting circles throughout the Carolinas, having done a variety of high school sports for many years.

He has been closely associated with Clemson athletics over the past 15 years.

With Phillips and Buchanan working closely together at WFBC during the week, they can be expected to give the Clemson Network listeners a picture commentary of action taking place on the field each Saturday.

Ideal Photography Facilities...

A photographer staffing a Clemson football game will find no better facilities anywhere than in the press box at Memorial Stadium.

Those who record the game in pictures are accorded everything needed to cover a major football attraction.

With chief photographer Charles Haralson and his assistants Tom Shockley and Bill Osteen on hand, equipment, space, chemicals and game action pictures are available to visiting photographers and sportswriters.

With the Communications Center now in its second year of operation, almost any request for film, video tape or stills can be filled during the week. Harry Durham and Jim Burns head up this operation and these two are ready and willing and on call seven days a week during football season.

A 27-foot open section right in the middle of the press box is reserved for visiting and home team movies during the game.

The covered top deck — sometimes referred to as “Top of the Valley” — has a two-fold purpose. The 35-yard front side facing the field is used by TV cameramen and still photographers with an unhindered vantage point for shooting from top side.

The back side of the upper deck is where the famed buffet dinner is served to all those with working press passes. Tables and benches are furnished and many a yarn is swapped here before game time.

Within the press box is a complete dark room where film can be loaded, processed and wire photos transmitted during the game.

Clemson photographers take color movies used on the Frank Howard Show each Sunday and black and white movies are taken for Clemson coaches and Tiger opponents.

Game action stills are also taken and furnished to any news media desiring a set through the use of a Fotorite machine, a rapid print processing. This machine is the only one in use in the Atlantic Coast Conference and one of the few in the nation so used.

During the past six seasons, nearly 2,500 photos have been given free to the press by this process.

1968-69 Basketball Outlook . . .

Clemson has all five starters returning for the coming campaign, but that doesn't mean that Coach Bobby Roberts will have the same group on the floor when the Tigers open against Georgia Tech November 30th.

Roberts suffered through his worst season (4-20) in six last year and it is certain that he'll look to five sophomores and a junior college transfer to bolster his offensive and defensive punch for his seventh season.

Although Roberts is 69-78 with the Tigers, he has given Clemson three winners in his six years. One would have to go back 30 years to find anything to equal that.

A big shot in the arm should come when Clemson begins playing its home games in the spacious Littlejohn Coliseum, now rushing to completion and scheduled to be ready for that encounter with the Yellow Jackets.

The 300-foot square building will hold just under 11,000 for basketball with every seat facing the court. The first capacity audience is anticipated when last year's national scoring leader, Pete Maravich, and the LSU Tigers come to town Dec. 7.

There was not a senior on the squad last fall and the only player who won't be in uniform this fall will be reserve guard Denny Danko, who has knee problems.

But Roberts does have Butch Zatezalo, who led the Atlantic Coast Conference in scoring last winter as a sophomore with a 23.4 average.

And an era will end for the Tigers this year when Richie Mahaffey plays his last season. Richie is the last of the famed four Mahaffey brothers to play for Clemson.
